THE HUNTRESS.

MRS. ANNE ROYALL, Editress. — ☞ EDUCATION.—The main pillar which sustains the Temple of Liberty.—JEFFERSON. — WASHINGTON CITY, SATURDAY, D. C. MARCH 4, 1854. — VOLUME XVII. — NO. 41.—Whole Number MCCCCC!

THE HUNTRESS

Is Published every Saturday,

BY MRS. ANNE ROYALL,

At the corner of North B and Second Streets

JOHN F. JONES, Printer

WASHINGTON CITY, D. C

SATURDAY, MARCH 4, 1854.

TO THE YOUNG MEN OF WASHINGTON CITY.

ON THE PERNICIOUS HABIT OF DRINKING TO EXCESS.

By John H. Sinks.—Foreman of the Huntress.

When I consider your age, inexperience, and situation, I think I cannot employ a vacant hour better, than in laying before you a few thoughts on the detestable practice of

There is no vice carries a greater shame and odium in it than drunkenness. There is no spectacle we behold with greater aversion and contempt. It sinks a man infinitely below the beasts that perish. This shameful vice throws the mind into a confusion and uproar; lays the understanding and reason in sad and deplorable ruins; effaces every thing that can be called the image of God—extinguishes reason and itself—inflames the passions—debauches the judgment, and exalts our worst desires in its place. The world can see nothing more contemptible sight than a rational creature in this condition. And indeed we must hold the man in the utmost contempt, whom we hear and see in his progress to excess—at first, teasing you with his contentiousness and impertinencies—muttering and passing and hardly knowing his own, then faltering in his speech, unable to get through an entire sentence, his hands trembling, his eyes swimming, his legs tottering to support him, till at length you only know the human creature by

I cannot but add, that were a person of sense to have a just notion of all the silly things he says or does, of the wretched appearance he makes in a drunken fit, he could not want a more powerful argument against

But as none of us are inclined to think ill of ourselves, so hope of us will know how far our vices expose us. We allow them excuses which they meet not with from any but ourselves.

This is the fatal ill, it is particularly so with drunkards, many of whom their shame would no doubt reform, could they be brought to conceive how much they do

Nor is it improbable that it is the very consideration, how much drunkenness contributes to the shame and confusion of his wife, his children, his servants, of all sober spectators; which hath proved the cause that it hath seldom been the reigning vice of any people possessed of remainders of manners.

There is hardly any vice which entails more inconceivable miseries on the unhappy wretch that is a slave to it, than drunkenness. It universally undermines the strength and vigor both of body and mind. We every day see the most deplorable effects of this most shameful vice in the ruined health, constitution, and fortune of vast numbers of our fellow creatures. How many ingenious and industrious persons has this rendered useless and wretched! How many happy families does it daily reduce to indigence and beggary! How many have known what it began the possession of, and forfeited, within a basis, an estate through industry and riches, to rear the structure of an ample fortune by contrary means, and their families further. For all the vices there is none so incurable as this, when it is once contracted. Other vices have their fits, but this draws in deeper, and acquires strength and firmness with time. It stands in continual need of

But to conclude. Young persons, most inflamed with wine—hesitate not to throw themselves in this state of ebriety, into the arms of that very lowest class of prostitutes, with whom all great cities swarm in the midnight hours—creatures covered with filth, diseased, poisoned with disease, and devoured with vermin, whom in their senses and sober hours they would have regarded with the utmost detestation and horror. So take it, keep for, "Cursed is the Drunkard."

☞ The Parisian editors speak of a new French pill lately come into fashion

From the Ladies's Own,

PICTURES FROM MEMORY'S GALLERY!

BY CHILD LAUREL.

The Empty Cradle.

Weep! childless mother, thy tears are sanctioned. None need question their sincerity, for they well-up from a mother's heart. Who would not weep, truly weep over the vacant cradle of their little one? The morning comes, the little prattle is hushed; at noon-day it is still, but evening, when the hour for retiring closes with his mantle around us, then comes the heartfelt loneliness, stealing softly, but emphatically telling that the loved one is gone. The vacant crib—the silent playthings—the childish but happy chirup are missed. The little one is in heaven!

Mother, look at that bud. It is sleeping in dormant beauty. Watch it closely.—Petal after petal unfolds, but so gradually that we are scarcely aware of its loveliness till it has withered. Then we remember each leaf, and think of its native loveliness. So with the infant. Earth cannot expand the dormant beauty that lies slumbering in that cherub. One not after another unfolds the capabilities of his intellect; but God took him to his home where every capability would increase without contamination. Weep not, mother, though thy babe was snatched from the parent stem. It will blossom with greater beauty and newborn loveliness in the garden of the Father, and will never, never die, nor fade away at noonday.—But its little guileless spirit will hover around thy aching heart and cheer thy toiling way.

The Better Land.

'Mother,' I am going to that Better Land where the flowers never fade, nor the rainbow never loses its beauty, where not discord never come, but where all is love and supreme bliss.'

'Ah, child, I cannot part with you yet. Life has but just began to assume attractions and now the object must be snatched from my embrace. No, I cannot, cannot part with you yet.'

'Mother, my mortal body is in pain.—The earthly shackles are loosening. I will be with you still. I will keep silent vigils around your midnight couch, and will cheer your desponding heart. I must leave you to receive the gift that my father promised to those who believe in Him.'

'Your goodness merits it, my daughter.'

'No, mother; not for that but what the Father extends to all who come to him—the gift of eternal salvation. If it was for good deeds it would cause lasting pride and excessive egotism.'

'Child, I have taught you how to live, but you have taught me how to die.'

'Pray, mother, giv—' said the dying girl.

Once more the dying one responded amen, and it was over. The spirit had gone home. Released, it flew to the Father's arms.

The aged mother wept. She was bereft of her only one of the lot that remained of the olive branches that once clustered around the hearthstone, was gone. One by one they were summoned homeward, till none were left to comfort the aged mourner. But amidst these multiplied afflictions, her faith sustained her. As a father pitieth his children, so also God pitieth us. In thy manifold afflictions look up, and through the dark clouds, though they exceed the midnight, there will glimmer a little star, pale and feeble, but faint not. Ah, it enlarges. It comes nearer, nearer, and now the path is clear. No darkness, no clouds, all is sunshine. Sunbeams succeed storms, so Faith and Prayer will dispel gloom, and bring us nearer and nearer our eternal home—the Better Land.

Alone.

Hark, steplightly—
'Our Father, who art in Heaven.'

Unite us, protect us, and make thy wishes plain to our mortal vision. Remember the poor, the sinner, the sad-hearted, the mariner, the unbeliever, and all grades of suffering humanity. Remember, Lord, in thy mercy to bestow a divine blessing upon the mourner. Take from my pen anything such as thou will see fit to direct me and bestow it upon such as are needy. Unloose my tongue that I may speak thy praise and warn others of the quick-sands of life. Entice them upon the ship of which thou art the commander—Jesus the pilot to guide us into the haven of peace. Amen.'

Oh, how beautiful, thus to hear the Father's aid invited on us mortals. Its comforting peace, the calm trust that Jesus will guide our bark safely to that shore, where all are received into the arms of our Saviour. Why is death so terrible? Why do we fear to die? Is not a release from bondage and escape from the prison house of iniquity a happy escape? oh, we have it in God. We see a father angry, revengeful, and full of dire despite at our sinful course, and now we are beyond other control we fear retribution, though it be just. So then God is possest of disposition like as we are, with a desire for revenge and punishment, for the sins done in the body. If you trespass upon his unchangeable laws you suffer therby—the pain falls upon the transgressor—but if you walk in the path of rectitude and abide by his precepts your reward is in your own bosom the satisfied spirit rests and you are happy. But supposing you had wronged a kind father, deeply wronged him, but he should make no account of the transgressions, but extend the same exemplary kindness to you, with yet more tenderness, would your conscience speak loudly for reparation? Could you converse with the same freedom and unrestrainedness as before? No! The still small voice would never rest till your heart was unburdened and the father had known of your penitence. 'Soft words turn away anger, but grievous words stir up strife.'

Oh, too true, but still seldom practised. What an amount of suffering, misery, and true heart sorrow would escape possession, if this godlike and exemplary precept was truly regarded. None would need say, 'Why do ye so?' but peace, calm, holy, with her dovelike and gentle wings would fold them upon the bosom of all who walk by these sanctioned words. Take from out thy store and make the widow rejoice, the orphan weep tears of gladness, and the pale and languishing infant smile the smile of joy and gladness. Do this, yea more, and receive a seat at that church whose head is Christ.

☞ 'Does your arm pain you much sir?' asked a young lady of a gentleman who had seated himself near her in a mixed assembly and thrown his arm across the back of her chair and slightly touched her neck. 'No, miss, it does not, but why do you ask?' 'I noticed it was considerably out of place, sir,' rejoined she, 'that's all.' The arm was removed.

☞ 'I bless God,' said Dr. Watts, 'that I can lie down with comfort at night, not being anxious whether I awake in this world or another.'

☞ A foreign paper tells a story of two officers who, both enamored of the same girl, challenged each other to fight. The seconds however, persuaded the combatants to settle the matter by presenting themselves before the lady, in order that she might make her choice. They did so, and she rejected them both.

☞ Sam Slick says, 'I don't like preaching to the nerves. Endue of the judgment.'

☞ The only distinctions which should be recognised are those of the soul, of strong principle, of incorruptible integrity, of activation, of cultivated intellect, of fidelity in seeking for truth. A man in proportion as he has these claims, should be honored and selected every where.

☞ The tradesman who keeps his heart in his cash-box, will not be long, whate ever may be his intentions, ere he will find it to be corroded by unjust gains. If our heart does not sanctify our wealth, we may rest assured that the wealth we obtain will soon corrupt our afflictions.

☞ Genility is neither in birth, wealth, manner, nor fashion, but in the mind. A high sense of honor, a determination never to take a mean advantage of another, an adherence to truth, delicacy, and politeness, towards those with whom we have dealings, are the essential characteristics of a gentleman. [Take a note of this, John Cox, for the cap fits you.]

☞ From the great era of national illumination, we date the commencement of our main national advantages. The tangle of delusions, which stifled and distorted the growing tree, have been torn away: the parasite weeds, that fed on its very roots, have been plucked up with a salutary violence. To us, there remain only quiet duties, the constant care, the gradual improvements, the cautious, unhazardous labors of the industrious, the contented gardener—to prune, to engraft, and, one by one, to remove from its leaves and fresh roots the slug and the caterpillar.

☞ Rev. Norris Day, a preacher of the Congregational Church, has been arrested at Madison, Ind. on a requisition from the Governor of Kentucky, charged with enticing a slave or slaves from their owners in Kentucky, and in aiding their escape from servitude.

☞ Beautiful Extract—helping a young lady out of a mud puddle.

☞ George Latimer, a fugitive slave, has been arrested in Boston on the charge of picking a gentleman's pocket of $700.

POETRY.

A VALENTINE.

If the ether is a star,
In the bower is a bud,
In the coronet a gem,
And a spangle on the flood;
Ever bringing unto me
Gentle memories of thee.

Lady, of the flashing eye—
Lady, of the rosy cheeks—
Let me ever linger nigh,
For a thought it utterance seeks!
Gentle lady—near divine—
Will thou be my Valentine?

OLD TIMES AND NEW.

By Finley Johnson.

O, why should men persuade us
There's nothing good that's new,
For some day in the future
We'll be old fashioned too.
And, wherefore, should we chide those
Who like the modern way?
O, if I were but able
I'd have it change each day.

Old times belong to Sages
Who've lived on earth awhile;
And future years shall herald
The present grievous style.
Then let us live on hopes,
Or at least with this allay,
And in deeds of love and kindness
Our present days employ.

THE SCHOOLMATE, a Monthly Journal for School and Home Instruction. Edited by A. E. Phippen, editor. Published by Geo. Savage, Boston, 23 John St. New York, Terms per annum, One Dollar, in advance; single copies, 10 cents. [illegible]

NICHOLS' JOURNAL, By T. [illegible]

Principals of the American Hydropathic Institute, [illegible]

THE HUNTRESS

Is Published every Saturday,

BY

MRS. ANNE ROYALL,

AT TWO DOLLARS per annum

At the corner of North B and Second Streets

Capitol Hill,

JOHN H. SIMMES, Printer

WASHINGTON CITY D. C

SATURDAY, MARCH 4, 1854.

THE NATIONAL ERA.

The Doctor and his correspondents are laboring hard to very little purpose. The last Era is filled with chaff, without one grain of wheat, though the Editor writes as if he were absolute monarch of the land. He treats the vote of the bona fide people with sovereign contempt in the case of Gen. Pierce's election; and the President—nobody, and Judge Douglas worse than nobody; while he and his subjects, (that are to be) people. If they were the people why did they not elect the President? We thought the Doctor had more sense, for it is just as bad to circulate a falsehood, knowing it to be such, as to fabricate one.

But why does the Doctor and all his friends, call this bill a fraud? Almost every word 'it is a fraud, a fraud.'—Wherein is the fraud? He does not say plainly, but seems to insinuate something about the Missouri Compromise which we do not understand, nor does it matter whether we do or not, any old woman however, might have told them that any act of Congress can be repealed by Congress—because the very next Congress could repeal the same. The ignorance of the North and East upon the powers of Congress, and always have been upon a par with the Kamtschatkas, at least most of them.

Congress is now on the right plan merely to fulfil the duties assigned them by the Constitution, and let the people make their own State laws—this is their province. But these would be traders seeing a good opening in the settlement of this vast territory to get the sovereign power into their own hands, which they imagine they can by the aid of foreigners, English and Scotch—but our warry Congress, just as they were upon the very brink of success, has the assurance to say 'not so fast;' fair play is a jewel: But who is it that says Congress and the President, the Cabinet, and the 'whole tribe,' are bringing destruction on the country? Thousands of times we have seen it that the country is ruined. Then if our people do not know how to take care of themselves, and so fine a country as this, let them go. But we understand this cheap too well. This calumny is alike being as it is false, and conclusive evidence of the designs of these self-praising hypocrites. Who would live under a government administered by such ruffianly people as the following—

"This Senator Douglas, it will be recollected, was supported as a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1852. Our cheek tingles with shame at the remembrance that we ever, in the most remote degree, assisted to add to the political prominence of so servile a doughface."

From the Saturday Evening Mail.

"THE NEBRASKA BILL.

On all sides we hear from the friends of the Compromise measures of 1850, both North and South, the cry of alarm at the dangers Mr. Douglas is about bringing upon the country by his ill-timed and ill-considered Nebraska Bill. Every mail brings us fresh evidences of the spread of a great excitement on the subject of this ill-advised measure. The newspapers teem with it, almost to the exclusion of everything else, and public meetings, resolutions, etc., give token that it has stirred the whole country. Even in this city, the New York Tribune and Evening Post, both marked, with much truth, that the members conservative presses of the country are arrayed in opposition to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and most of the papers thus referred to were then advocates and supporters of the Compromise Measures of 1850. The Louisville Courier, one of the most powerful of the slave States, also concludes a long article upon the question,

'The prospects are that President Pierce will have the Nebraska Bill through Congress at the end of the week. We foresee as its consequence, not only fierce and extended agitation now, but the absolute destruction of the confidence of the North in the plighted faith of the South, and the future impossibility of any adjustment whatever. If the Missouri Compromise be broken, there is an end to the era of compromises. The sword will then be drawn and the scabbard thrown away.—The passage of the Nebraska Bill will at once sweep away those great national compacts which laid to rest the most exciting questions in our history, and launch the nation upon an interminable sea of civil discord as dark and boundless and unknown as the future itself. Having, for these reasons, entered an earnest protest against it, we shall await the result with the deepest interest.'

'In the Senate of the United States, on Tuesday last, Gen. Houston, the Senator from Texas, commenced his speech, but owing to indisposition, was not able to conclude. This we regret, as there is a general desire all over the country to hear what the venerable Senator has to say. We will give his speech complete in our next."

"Et tu Brute!" And so we have been mistaken in Mr. Graham. From our knowledge of his family, we were proud to find a man of his talents engaged with the press, especially at a time like the present, when treachery stalks abroad like a pestilence.

Our country swarmed with Scotch tories in the revolution, who were the most unfeeling savages that ever crossed the ocean—they had flocked over to this country previous to the revolution, and engaged in mercantile business, principally in the Carolinas and Georgia, and no sooner did the revolution commence, than they sided with the King. They did not join the ranks, but carried on midnight depredations, such as burning houses, breaking and destroying property, driving off cattle to the British camps and leaving women and children without shelter, food, or anything but the clothes they escaped with. These are the savages that our own traitors are expecting soon to assist them, with Thompson at their head—we cannot say for Thompson, and only repeat what they said themselves, that their 'friends' the Scotch, Welsh, English, and Irish, were coming over the Atlantic to assist them. True, there are many noble Scotch, and several were in command under Gen. Washington, viz: Montgomery, Warren, and we believe Nash, all commanding Generals, and as brave as Cæsar. But when they are spoken, they are the last of the human race, Thompson for instance, and the Cromwell army, 'who sold their King for a groat.' But little did we expect to find the accomplished, high-minded literary Mr. Graham, siding with the ignorant, weathy bigots of this country, who would gutter our streets to run with blood to establish a union of Church and State. Mr. G. is a gentleman of too much penetration to be deceived in their abolition stuff, nay we would not be surprised if he was one of the heads of the league, for it is only their first people that are privy to the grand secret, viz: for the cause, the inbred fanatics, if the whole world, were to swear to them that all this fuss meant anything but abolition, they would not believe it. Poor creatures, it is a great pity that they are being deceived into their own destruction, for they are incapable of judging for themselves.

Now it may be possible that some of those opposition men have slipped in the obnoxious article, without Mr. Graham's knowledge. It is printed in the finest type, near the bottom on an outside column, and might be taken for an advertisement. We has such a trick played upon the Huntress once—some of our citizens became angry with one another and hired our printer, C. S., to put in a slanderous piece against one of the first young gentlemen in the country. It was done in six only. But we must come to the charge, let who will be the author, coming from a man like George R. Graham, it is too sweeping a libel. It is misleading the people, to treat this struggle for the mastery, the slave question, or by any other name, than the true one. It has but one name in reality, and that is Treason against the dignity of the commonwealth, 'on all sides,' says Mr. Graham's Mail, 'North and South the cry of alarm at the danger Mr. Douglas is about bringing upon the country.' Now every word of this opening sentence stamps itself with falsehood, and that cryers are hired by traitors.

What motive could Mr. Douglas have for injuring his country? The act of every sane man has some motive. That the anti-Nebraska people's motive is to destroy the country or at least the government, inclaim from the many falsehoods, frauds, and blasphemy the Christian institution, by which they are endeavoring to carry out their infamous plans, and if Mr. Douglas has any motive it is to save his country from destruction.

As for that Louisville (Ky.) bully, will Mr. Graham please to invite him to Bladensburg.

We thank Mr. Graham for the Magazine, and assure him of our warmest esteem in everything but his abolition, though we do not hold with slavery.

In consequence of a family arrangement, no paper will issue from this office next week.

☞ The tradesman who keeps his heart in his cash-box, will not be long, whatever may be his intentions, solvent. If his heart does not sanctify his wealth, we may rest assured that the wealth we obtain will soon corrupt our affections.

☞ Gentility is neither in birth, wealth, manner, nor fashion, but in the mind. A high sense of honor, a determination never to take a mean advantage of an enemy, an adherence to truth, delicacy, and politeness, towards those with whom we have dealings, are the essential characteristics of a gentleman. Make a note of this, John Cox, for the cap fits you.

When a man finds a great deal of fault with a newspaper which he never fails to read, it is a sign he has not paid for it. People cold to pick flaws in their own property. Fact.

It is estimated that in the United Kingdom of Great Britain there are consumed 1,500,000,000 eggs annually, of which Ireland produces one third.

☞ 'Does your arm pain you much, sir?' asked a young lady of a gentleman who had seated himself near her, in a crowded assembly and thrown his arm across the back of her chair and slightly touched her neck: 'No, miss, it does not, but why do you ask?' 'I noticed it was considerably out of place, sir,' replied she, 'that's all.' The arm was removed.

INFLUENCE.

Drop follows drop, and swells
With rain the sweeping river;
Words follow word, and tells
A truth that lives forever.

Flake follows flake, like spirits
White wings the winds discover:
Thought follows thought and lights
The realm of mind forever.

Beam follows beam, to cheer
The cloud the bolt would shirm,
Throb follows throb, and fear
Gives place to joy forever.

The drop, the flake, the beam,
Teach us a lesson ever,
The word, the thought, the dream,
Impress the soul for ever.

THE HORSE'S PRAYER.

Up hill spare thou me,
Down hill take care of thee,
On level ground spare me not,
Nor give the water when I'm hot.

LIVE TO SOME PURPOSE.

They err who measure life by years,
With false or thoughtless tongue;
Some hearts grow old before mine time,
Others are always young.

'Tis not the number of the lines
On Life's fast filling page,
'Tis not the pulse's added throbs
Which constitute the age.

Our Fathers' land, the sons of sires
Who bled in days of yore,
Where freedom broke her sacred fires
On every hill and shore.

Others, all spirit, heart and soul—
Their's the mysterious power
To live, in thrills of joy or woe,
To live, a twelvemonth in an hour.

Some dim the lustre—they [illegible]
The wool of Life is thought,
Warm up the colors—let [illegible]
By fire or lamp fraught.

Live to some purpose—[illegible]
A gift of use to thee—
A joy, a good, a [illegible]
A heavenly agency!

A DEMOCRAT.

A Democrat! the people's friend!
The "public good" he seeks:
Philanthropy—his heart is moved,
It breathes in all he speaks.

His principles are "stubborn things"
Which will Union yield their claim,
Whether he thinks or utters songs,
Or enters in the game.

At home—abroad—they never fail,
Nor 'work' to their disgrace,
In Legislative Halls he's seen
Before intrigue's face.

To public wrongs such men look keen,
Corruptors eyes and tongue,
Exposes every mean and [illegible]
And them, he wisely stings.

True friends he never fears to join,
To compass worthy end,
For rights of Christian coin,
Can ne'er contains mend.

For the 'Maine Law' he boldly pleads,
As [illegible] the matter,
But hates [illegible] and shrieks
Which 'fix' a question.

The people's rights he will not sell
To such [illegible] or [illegible]
As use for cause is below par
Or pledge, the [illegible] part.

True Democrats are "coming fast"—
They [illegible] glorious cause;
But Democrats are dying out
To an ignoble race.

Heaven speed the right—the [illegible]
Give legislators [illegible]
Spread [illegible]
rush,
To keep disgrace like chaff [illegible]

A PAPER FOR EVERY FAMILY.

[illegible]

Owing to the steady advance of prices in CA'S OWN the publishers have been excited to make such arrangements that will place it ahead of any weekly published. They do not resort to the quack system of offering premiums at jewelry boxes, &c., to increase the circulation, but depend more upon its merits to commend it to public favor. The paper is devoted to [illegible] and family journal for the people of America, and it contains more readable matter than any other paper. The [illegible] North and South speak of it in the warmest terms of commendation. It is edited by Emerson B. Grace and [illegible] Terms: TWO DOLLARS per annum for single copies. Address [illegible] Childs Brothers, 26 Chatham Street, New York, or Foulger Johnson & Company, 70 South street, Baltimore. [illegible] are requested to act as agents, for which service a liberal per centage will be allowed. Specimen copies sent upon post paid application. [illegible] strength and promptness [illegible] above. We think it [illegible] to keep [illegible] the [illegible] world. [illegible] to [illegible] Or [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

NEW YEAR OF THE AGENTS MODEL
AMERICAN —COURIER.

AT ONE DOLLAR A YEAR!

The worldwide reputation of the Model American Courier, for Literary, Moral, and political excellence, leaves the Publisher no ambition to promise and nothing to fear in comparison with any of the host of imitators in every city. He would simply state that, determined to keep in the van of enterprise and liberality, he has made arrangements to give increased interest to the columns of the Courier, which has long been acknowledged

THE BEST FAMILY NEWSPAPER EXTANT!

Among the attractions of the year 1854, will be Original American Tales, by distinguished authors—Original Sketches, Letters from abroad, Original Poems, First Republications of Choice English Literature, both prose and poetry—copious Extracts from the London 'Merry Satirist'—'Commonsense' Epistles, &c. &c.

TERMS.

☞ The terms of the American Courier are a single year six Two Dollars, per annum in advance; but in order to continue its immense circulation, the Publisher still proposes to Clubs or Agents the following terms, the best ever offered. Payment invariably in advance.

One copy one year, . . . $2
Five " " . . . 5
Eight " one for the Agent, . 10
Thirteen " " . 15
Twenty " " . 20

☞ Members of old clubs are perfectly eligible to the offers to new ones, when they renew in clubs, and pay in full directly to this office, either personally or by mail and not to an agent or third person.

☞ Postmasters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do so conveniently.

All orders must be addressed, post paid, to ANDREW M'MAKIN,
No. 141 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

THE BOOK TRADE

IS PUBLISHED MONTHLY AT 25 CENTS
ANNUM IN ADVANCE
BY H. WILSON
at 129 FIRST STREET, NEW YORK.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

Announcement of forthcoming works (consisting of the titles thereof, style, No. of Vols., No. of pages, author's name, style of binding, dates and additions of publication, and price, not exceeding Eight lines,) $5 00
(This gives names, particulars of all large and small works published within the current month are inserted gratuitously upon being forwarded to the Publisher, post paid. Publishers will confer a favor by furnishing these particulars)
Advertisements over six lines, or less, 50
Advertisements over sixteen lines, at the rate of 3 cents per line.
All communications must be post paid

TO PUBLISHERS AND BOOKSELLERS

On the seventh page of this sheet is a list of all publications issued by the different publishing houses in the U. States, during the month ending March 31 1851, of which we have been able to procure any information with such particulars as have been communicated to us.

It is our intention to continue this publication in future monthly for a time, and to render therein monthly a list of all the publications issued

"Seeing what a cure it effected on him, I was induced to apply it to a scrofulous sore on my nose which was much inflamed and ulcerated, having disfigured it for six years. To my surprise and delight, in less than two weeks the ulcer was healed and the scrofula entirely cured."

NEW FAMILY MANUAL,
OR
AN INDISPENSABLE ASSISTANT,

Being a companion for the Sister, Mother, &c. Containing more information for the same than any other work upon the subject. Also containing very best directions for the behaviour and etiquette of Ladies and Gentlemen, Ladies' Toilette Table, directions for managing horses, also safe directions for the management of Children, instructions for ladies in their various circumstances—a great variety of valuable receipts, forming a complete system of Family Medicine. Thus enabling each person to become his or her own physician—to which is added one of the best systems of Cookery ever published. Many of these receipts are entirely new and should be in the possession of every person in the land.

THE ATLAS.

Supreme Weekly

By HERRICK & MOFFAT,

(No 111 Nassau street) New York.

Terms.—To Mail subscribers, Two Dollars per annum, invariably in advance. No paper is continued longer than paid for, no copy paper sent from this office before it is paid for. In order to afford the paper at the extremely low price which it is, a strict adherence to this rule is absolutely necessary.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1854.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST,

THE LEADING LITERARY WEEKLY

THE COMING YEAR.

Our contributors will be the following brilliant corps of writers, each of whom, pursuant to arrangements have been made,

Mrs. Southworth, Emerson Bennette, Horace Greenwood, Mrs. Denison, and Fanny Fern.

In our next number, we design commencing the original novelet of

THE BRIDE OF THE WILDERNESS,

Written expressly for the Post, by Emerson Bennett, author of 'Viola,' 'Clara Moreland,' 'The Forged Will,' &c. This we design following by another novelet, called

THE ST PHOTEER.

NEW SERIES OF SKETCHES,

By Fanny Fern.

We expect to commence the Sketches by Fanny Fern, as well as the series by Horace Greenwood, in the early numbers of the coming year.

Mrs. Southworth, whose fascinating works are being rapidly republished in England will also still maintain her old and pleasant connection with the Post. The next story from her gifted pen will be entitled,

MIRIAM, THE AVENGER, OR THE FATAL BLOW,

In addition to the above splendid array of Novelets and Sketches, we have made arrangements for the usual supply of Foreign Correspondence from Europe etc.

The Money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured, if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Postmasters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do so conveniently.

A New Arrangement. Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out in this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

☞ Of course we shall maintain for the Post the character it has acquired of being a strictly moral paper, not ridiculously squeamish and straight laced, but really and truly moral; such as may be taken into the family circle without fear. Advertisements of an improper character shall be as heretofore, gorgeously excluded.

CHEAP POSTAGE.

The postage on the Post to any part of the United States, when paid quarterly in advance, is now only 26 cents a year. And we trust that the public generally will show their appreciation of this commendable reduction of postage, by largely increasing the number of papers taken at the various offices—that thus there may be no falling off in the revenue of the Post office department. This will insure a continuance of the present reduced rates.

TERMS

The terms of the Post are Two Dollars if paid in advance, 3,00, if not paid in advance. For five dollars in advance, one copy will be sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs—to be sent, in the city to one address, and in the country to one Post Office:

1 COPIES, 5 per annum
8 (And one to Agent, or getter up of the Club 10,0
13 do do do 15,00
20 do do do 20,00

DEACON & PETERSON, No 66 South third Street, Philadelphia.

THE MUSICAL WORLD
AND
NEW YORK MUSICAL TIMES,

Oliver Dyer and Richard Storrs Willis,

Delivered to New York and Brooklyn Subscribers at $3 per annum, payable (inflexibly,) in advance.

One copy will be sent by mail for			$3
Two copies	do	do	5
Five copies	do	do	10
Ten copies	do	do	20

Any person that sends us a club of ten subscribers will receive an extra copy for his trouble.

All communications must be addressed post paid to LYER & WILLIS, publishers of The Musical World & Times, No 187 Broadway, New York.

Subscribers in this city, Harlem, Williamsburg, Brooklyn, Jersey city & Staten Island are served by regular carriers at one shilling per month, or three cents per copy.

JOHN F. CALLAN, DRUGGIST.

J. F. Callan, Esq. has returned to his old stand. Mr. C. keeps an extensive supply of the best Medicines just imported, and all sorts of Garden Seeds, both culinary and flowers, with the rarest plants and shrubs from every part of the world.

If our friends now in Congress, wish to procure anything rare and beautiful, they will find it at Mr. J. F. Callan's, and will moreover find just such a man as they like—an honest, in whom there is no guile.

DR. TOWNSKND'S SARSPARILLA.

Dr. Townsend is almost daily receiving letters from physicians in different parts of the Union.

These to certify that we, the undersigned physicians of the city of Albany, serve in numerous cases prescribed Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla and believe it to be one of the most valuable preparations Sarsaparilla in the Market.

P H Pulling M D. R B Briggs M D. P E Elmendorf M D.
Albany, April 11845.

The following is from one of the most respectable physicians on Long Island.

Greenport, July 10, 1846.

Dr. Townsend—Dear Sir—It is with gratification that I have recently witnessed, in many cases the most beneficial results from your extract of Sarsaparilla. Being engaged in the practice of medicine, I have prescribed it in several cases and never without benefit. In the removal of diseases arising from a deranged state of the digestive organs, jaundice &c. it far exceeds anything of the kind ever offered to the public. You will please send me two dozen &c.

Respectfully Yours,
C. S Preston M D.

United States Officers.

Capt. G W McLean, member of the Legislature, and late of the U. S. Navy, has kindly sent us the following certificate, detailing his own story.

Rahway Jan. 20 1846.

A year since I was taken with the fall fever and my whole system left in a debilitated state. I was induced to try Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla.

After taking two or three bottles, I was very much relieved, and attributed it entirely to the said Sarsaparilla. I have continued taking it, and improve every day. I believe it saved my life, and would not be without it under any consideration.

G W. McLean.

Scrofula Cured.

This certificate conclusively proves that the Sarsaparilla has perfect control over the most obscinate diseases of the blood. Three cases cured in one house is unprecedented.

New York, March 1, 1847.

MONTGOMERY'S PICTORIAL

TIMES.

On Saturday, 31st December, will be published, Price 3 cents, a Weekly Illustrated Newspaper, entitled

MONTGOMERY'S PICTORIAL TIMES.

It is the intention of the Proprietor to present a combination of literary and artistic elements, such as has never before been offered to the Public in Newspaper Literature.

No pains will be spared to render the mechanical execution of this periodical superior to all past and existing American or European publications of a similar character.

It will be illustrated, by Darley, Dopler, Bellew, Kenseyt and other eminent American artists while arrangements have been entered into with Gilbert, Gavarni, and other European artists of distinction, to supply the department devoted to foreign objects and events of such current interest as shall be deemed important enough to deserve the attention of the American people.

Besides ordinary illustrations there will be given every week, social, humorous, and satirical designs, on topics eminently national and cosmopolitan &c.

ALEXANDER MONTGOMERY,
17 Spruce street, N. Y.

Dr. M. B. MELVIN,

Office and residence on the Island, between 9 and 10th, South.

THE VALLEY WHIG,

Published every Friday morning at Pincastle, Virginia, by BRKEN JAMES, at Two Dollars and Fifty Cents per annum, if paid at the time of subscribing, or Three Dollars after six months.

No subscription will be received for less than six months and no paper will be discontinued until all arrearages are paid.

THE POPULAR EDUCATOR.

Each number of the Educator will contain articles in several of the depart ments. The lessons in Geography will be accompanied with maps engraved on copper; and the Lessons in every other department which can admit of it will be illustrated by the same schevish and fine wings. McGinty Black, artistic wiill as do, to embellish the several subjects, will be neglected.

The Popular Educator has received the most encouraging welcome from the people throughout the length and breadth of the United States. The more modest given to a prospectus into the given family of periodicals, the publisher feels that he has met one of the public wants. So great has been the demand for the first number, that he has been obliged to go to press with a third edition, which is now ready.

DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING ELIXIER
OR CORDIAL.

Cure of Nervousness.

No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the shattered, debilitated, and nervous system. Whether broken down by excess, work by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once relieved, invigorated, and built up. The mental and physical symptoms of nervous disease vanish together under its influence. The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man. He stands erect, he moves with a firm step, his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom, or the victim of idiotic apathy, becomes bright, buoyant, active and he goes forth refreshed, regenerated, and conscious of new vigor, to his accustomed occupations. Nor is the effect temporary. On the contrary, the relief is permanent, for the cordial properties of the medicine reach the constitution itself, and restore it to its normal condition. Well may the preparation be called the MARVELLOUS FOUNDS of the inelegant century. Into, as the first scientific men of the old world have admitted, that mode of medicine, heretofore supposed to have no existence.

Its force is never expended, as is the case with opium, alcoholic preparations, and all other exhilarants. The effect of these is brief, and it may well be said of them that the last state of the victim is worse than the first.' But the Elixir is a permanent without a single drawback, safe in its operation perpetual in its happy influence upon the nerves, the mind, and the entire system. In cases of neuralgia, headache, loss of memory, hypochondriasis, dyspepsia, general prostration, irritability, nervousness, inability to sleep, liver complaint, and all diseases incident to females, hysteria, monomania, tremors, palpitation of the heart, melancholy, barrenness, constipation, etc., from whatever cause arising, it is if there is any reliance to be placed on human testimony, absolutely infallible.

It is the only infallible remedy yet discovered for Nervous, Head, and Mind Complaints; it is the mental physic long sought for, and never before found, the only natural agent that can administer to a mind diseased. It will increase and restore the appetite, strengthen the emaciated, renew the health of those who have destroyed it, induce continual cheerfulness and equanimity of spirits, and prolong life.

Persons of pale complexion or consumptive habits are restored by the use of a bottle or two to the bloom and vigor, changing the skin from a pale yellow sickly color to a beautiful florid complexion.

The common expression of those who have used this extract is—I have heard your Cordial highly spoken of but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merit, having tried various medicines sold for the same purpose without deriving any benefit. I had almost given up all hopes of deriving any relief, and when I purchased some of your Cordial I had no faith whatever of its benefiting me, but it has.

THE FAIRMONT REPUBLICAN,

Published every Thursday Morning at Fairmont, Virginia, by J. M. Scroggs.

Terms.—The Republican is furnished to subscribers at Two Dollars per annum, payable in advance. No paper discontinued, except at the option of the publishers, until all arrearages are paid.

JAMES HOWARD,

Dealer in Pies, Cakes, Apples, &c. Maryland Avenue, Capitol Hill,

---

J. A. F. TODTSCHINDEL, Grocery and Liquor store, Maryland Avenue, Capitol Hill

---

DR. PETTIT'S

AMERICAN EYE SALVE,

SUPERIOR TO ANY STONE KNOWN

FOR DISEASED EYES.

For Inflammation of that delicate Organ, whether acute or Chronic—for Scrofulous Ophthalmia—Ulceration of the Eye—Specks—Evaluations of the Lids—Ulceration of the Tarsal Glands—all Scrofulous Inflammations of any kind.

Dr. J. PETTIT, a member of the Medical Society of Onondaga, Co. N York, and for many years a successful practitioner of medicine, has by actual experiment, and a series of practice in a variety of diseases of the eye, discovered a delicate proportionment of ingredients, combining soothing, healing, and strengthening properties that have resulted in effecting many Astonishing Cures, and have settled it the AMERICAN EYE SALVE.

The AMERICAN EYE SALVE is recommended with perfect confidence to all who are troubled with weaky sore eyes, whether caused by acute or chronic inflammation, or of scrofulous origin, or any other destructive anism diseased state of the optic nerve.

Irving Hotel, Washington D. C.

The subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the travelling public that this well known house of this long and well known establishment, which has been completely and elegantly refurnished in every department. Having had charge for a long time of French's Hotel Norfolk, the Atlantic hotel at Old Point, and lastly Gadsby's in this city, he assures the public that every thing will be made to render the living in every respect deserving of their confidence and support. D. D. Fearing.

GEORGE RITTUS,

MUSICAL DEPOT

Takes this method to inform his friends and strangers that he has now a complete and general assortment of Musical Instruments, and musical merchandize, consisting of Guitars of the latest style and finish, violins, violin strings, accordeons, Flutinos, Flutes, Fifes, Violin Bows, Banjos, Tambourines, &c.

NOW GET UP YOUR CLUBS FOR THE NEW YEAR OF M'MAKIN'S MODEL

AMERICAN COURIER.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR!

The worldwide reputation of the Model American Courier, its Literary, Moral and Social excellence, leaves the Publisher nothing to promise and nothing to say in a comparison with any of its host of imitators in almost every Atlantic City. He would simply state that, determined to keep in the van of enterprise and liberality, he has made arrangements to give increased interest to the columns of the Courier, which has long been acknowledged as

THE BEST FAMILY NEWSPAPER EXTANT.

Among the attractions of the year 1854, will be Original American Tales, by distinguished writers—Original Sketches, Letters from Abroad, Original Poems, First Republications of Choice English Literature, both prose and poetry—copious Extracts from the London Merry Satirists—Commissioner's Epistles, &c. &c.

TERMS.

☞ The terms of the American Courier are a single copy one Two Dollars per annum in advance to continue its immense circulation. The Publisher still proposes to Clubs or Companies the following terms, the best ever offered. Payment invariably in advance.

Two copies one year, or one copy two years, $3
Eight " and one for the Agent, 10
Twenty " " " 20

Clubs of Ten or Twenty of old clubs are perfectly welcome to the offers of new ones, when they renew in clubs, and pay in full directly to this office, either personally or by mail and not to carriers or third persons. Letters containing orders for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to the Post Masters to whom they can do so conveniently.

ANDREW M'MAKIN,
No. 139 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

THE BOOK TRADE

IS PUBLISHED MONTHLY AT 25CE

ANNUM, IN ADVANCE.

OFFICE, No. 112 FULTON STREET, NEW YORK.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

Advertisements of forthcoming works (consisting chiefly of the titles thereof, style of binding, No. of Vols. &c.) will be inserted gratuitously upon being forwarded to the Publisher, post paid. Published Lists will obtain a favor by furnishing these particulars)
Advertisements over six lines, or less,
Advertisements over six lines, at the rate

All communications must be post paid.

TO PUBLISHERS AND BOOKSELLERS.

On the seventh page of the sheet is a list of all publications issued by the different publishing houses in the U. States, during the month ending March 31 1851, of which we have been able to procure any information. Other particulars as have been communicated to us.

It is our intention to continue the publication of this valuable monthly list, and to insert therein all the publications issued during the following month as soon as it collected, on the 1st of each month. In order to render this list complete, and as correct as possible, it is necessary that the publishers should favor us with a copy of their publications as soon as issued, and not wait for us to call upon them, which we cannot do as frequently as we could wish, owing to the extent of our business.

THE FAMILY MANUAL,

OR

AN INDISPENSABLE ASSISTANT,

Being a companion for the Sister, Mother, &c. &c. containing more information for the people than any other work upon the subject. Here are the very best directions for the behavior and etiquette of Ladies and Gentlemen, Ladies' Toilets, Public Assemblies, directions for managing canary birds, also safe directions for the management of Children, instructions for ladies under various circumstances—a great variety of valuable receipts, forming a complete system of Family Medicine. Thus enabling each family to become its or her own physician—in addition to the above are two of the best systems of Cookery ever published. Many of these receipts are entirely new and should form the possession of every person in the land.

THE ATLAS.

A Family Weekly Publication.

BY BEDDICK & ROPER.

Booksellers and Publishers, New York.

Terms.—To mail subscribers, Two Dollars per annum, payable in advance. No paper to be sent out of the State of New York unless the money is paid in advance. No paper to be discontinued until all arrearages are paid, except at the option of the publishers. Letters on business relating to the paper or the subscription list must be post paid. In order to enable us to keep our books correctly, and to avoid mistakes, which will sometimes occur in the best regulated offices, we request that in all cases where a change of residence is desired by a subscriber, the name of the post office to which the paper has been sent, as well as the one to which it is desired to be sent hereafter, should be distinctly stated. In fact, in all communications relative to the paper at the extremely low price which we do, a strict adherence to this rule is absolutely necessary.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1854.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST,

THE LEADING LITERARY WEEKLY

OF THE COMING YEAR.

Our contributors will be the following brilliant array of writers, with all of whom positive arrangements have been made.

Mrs. Southworth, Emerson Bennett, Grace Greenwood, Mrs. Denison, and Fanny Fern.

In our next number we design commencing the original novelet of

THE BRIDE OF THE WILDERNESS.

Written expressly for the Post, by Emerson Bennett, author of 'Viola,' 'Clara Moreland,' 'The Forged Will,' &c. This we design following by another novelet, called

THE ST P MOTHER.

NEW SERIES OF SKETCHES.

By Fanny Fern.

We expect to commence the Sketches by Fanny Fern, as well as the series by Grace Greenwood, in the early numbers of the coming year.

Mrs. Southworth, whose fascinating works are being rapidly republished in England will also will maintain her old and pleasant connection with the Post. The next story from her gifted pen will be entitled,

MIRIAM, THE AVENGER, OR THE FATAL BLOW.

In addition to the above splendid array of Novelets and Sketches, we have made arrangements for the usual supply of Foreign Correspondence from Europe etc.

The Money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured, if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to the address, when they can do so conveniently.

A New Arrangement. Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out in this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

☞ Of course we shall maintain for the Post the character it has acquired of being a strictly moral paper, not ridiculously squeamish and straight laced, but really and truly moral; such as may be taken into the family circle without fear. Advertisements of an improper character shall be as heretofore, gorgously excluded.

CHEAP POSTAGE.

The postage on the Post to any part of the United States, when paid quarterly in advance, is only 26 cents a year. And we trust that the public generally will show their appreciation of this commendable reduction of postage, by largely increasing the number of papers taken at the various offices—that thus there may be no falling off in the revenue of the Post office Department. This will insure a continuance of the present reduced rates.

TERMS

The terms of the Post are Two Dollars if paid in advance; 2,00, if not paid in advance. For five dollars in advance, one copy will be sent three years. We also make the following low terms for Clubs—to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office:

5 COPIES, $ per annum
8 (And one to Agent, or getter up of the Club $10,00
15 do do do 15,00
20 do do do 20,00

DEACON & PETERSON, No 66 South third Street, Philadelphia.

THE MUSICAL WORLD

AND

NEW YORK MUSICAL TIMES,

Oliver Dyer and Richard Storrs Willis.

Delivered to New York and Brooklyn Subscribers at $2 per annum, payable (inflexibly,) in advance.

One copy will be sent by mail for			$2
Two copies	do	do	3
Five copies	do	do	10
Ten copies	do	do	20

Any person that sends us a club of ten subscribers will receive an extra copy for his trouble.

All communications must be addressed post paid, to DYER & WILLIS, publishers of the Musical World & Times, No. 257 Broadway, New York.

Subscribers in this city, Harlem, Williamsburg, Brooklyn, Jersey city & State of Island are served by regular carriers at one shilling per month, or three cents per copy.

JOHN F. CALLAN, DRUGGIST.

J. F. Callan Esq. has returned to his old stand. Mr. C. keeps an extensive supply of the best Medicines just imported, and all sorts of Garden Seeds, both culinary and flowers, with the rarer plants and shrubs from every part of the World.

If our friends now in Congress, wish to procure anything rare and beautiful, they will find it at Mr. J. F. Callan's, and will moreover find just such a man as they like—an Israelite, in whom there is no guile.

DR. TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA!

Cures Scrofula, syphilis, salt rheum, blotches, pimples on the face &c, together with numerous cases of consumption liver complaints spine affections, &c. This, we are aware, must appear incredible, but we have letters from physicians as well as agents from all parts of the United States, informing us of extraordinary cures. E Van Buskirk Esq, one of the most respectable druggists in Newark, New Jersey, informs us that he can refer to more than one hundred and fifty cases in that place alone. There are thousands of cases in the city of N York which we will refer to with pleasure, and to men of character well known.

Opinions of Physicians.

Dr. Townsend is almost daily receiving orders from physicians in different parts of the Union.

This is to certify that we the undersigned physicians of the city of Albany give in numerous cases prescribed Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla and believe it to be one of the most valuable preparations Sarsaparilla in the Market

P H Pulling M D, R B Briggs M D, E Elmendorf M D.

Albany, April 1848.

The following is from one of the most respectable physicians on Long Island,

Greenport July 19, 1848.

Dr. Townsend—Dear Sir—It is with gratification that I have recently witnessed, in many cases the most beneficial results from your extract of Sarsaparilla. Being engaged in the practice of medicine, I have prescribed it in several cases and never without benefit. In the removal of diseases arising from a deranged state of the digestive organs, jaundice &c. it far exceeds anything of the kind ever offered to the public. You will please send me two dozen &c.

Respectfully Yours,
C. S Preston M D.

United States Officer.

Capt. G W McLeod, member of the Legislature, and late of the U. S. Navy, has kindly sent us the following certificate. It tells its own story.

Rahway Jan. 28 1847.

A year since I was taken with one indigestion and my whole system left in a debilitated state. I was induced to try Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla.

After taking two or three bottles I was very much relieved, and attributed it entirely to the said Sarsaparilla. I have continued taking it, and improve every day. I believe it saved my life, and would not be without it under any consideration.

G. W. McLEAN.

Sworn to before me this 3rd day of Feb 1847.

This certificate conclusively proves that the Sarsaparilla has perfect control over the most obstinate diseases of the blood. Three cures cured in one house is unprecedented.

New York, March 1, 1847

MONTGOMERY'S PICTORIAL TIMES.

On Saturday, 31st December, will be published, Price 5 cents a Weekly Illustrated Newspaper, entitled;

MONTGOMERY'S PICTORIAL TIMES.

It is the intention of the Proprietor to present a combination of literary and artistic elements, such as has never before been offered to the Public in Newspaper Literature.

No pains will be spared to render the mechanical execution of this periodical superior to all past and existing American or European publications of a similar character.

It will be illustrated by Darley, Dopler, Bellew, Kensett, and other eminent American artists while arrangements have been entered into with Billiett, Guvarni, and other European artists of distinction, to supply the department devoted to foreign objects and events of such current interest as shall be deemed important enough to deserve the attention of the American people.

Besides ordinary illustrations there will be given every week, social, humorous, and satirical designs, on topics eminently national and characteristic.

ALEXANDER MONTGOMERY.

17 Spruce street, N. Y.

Dr. M. B. MELVIN,

Office and residence on the Island, between 9 and 10th, South.

THE VALLEY WHIG.

Published every Friday morning at Pincastle, Virginia, by GREEN JAMES, at Two Dollars and Fifty Cents per annum if paid at the time of subscribing, or Three Dollars after six months.

No subscription will be received for a less term than six months, and no paper will be discontinued until all arrearages are paid.

THE POPULAR EDUCATOR.

Each number of the Educator will contain articles in several of the departments. The lessons in Geography will be accompanied with maps engraved expressly, and the Lessons in every other department which can admit of it will be illustrated by diagrams, engravings and drawings, nothing which artists will do, to embellish the several subjects will be neglected.

The Popular Educator has received the encouraging welcome from the people throughout the length and breadth of the United States. They have already given it a most cordial reception into the great family of periodicals. The publisher feels that he is not one of the public wants. So great has been the demand for the first number, that he has been compelled to go to press with a second edition before the first was ready.

ALEXANDER MONTGOMERY.

[illegible] MEDICINE—CURATIVE

Cure of Nervous Diseases.

We have received the following letter from a gentleman of this city, whose name we are permitted to use, and which we publish with pleasure, as it will be the means of relieving many who are suffering from nervous affections. We have known the writer for many years, and can vouch for the truth of his statements. He was a man of great energy of character, and was completely wrecked by nervous disease, which had prostrated and relaxed every muscle and fibre of his system. He was revived, and built up, by the use of Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla, and is now in the full enjoyment of health and vigor. Those who are afflicted with nervous diseases, should read the following letter, and consider the source from which it comes.

Its forte is never expended, [illegible] opium, alcoholic preparations, and all other narcotics. The effect of these is brief, and it may well be said of him who takes them "the last state of that man is worse than the first." But the Extract of Sarsaparilla is a most valuable remedy, exerting a permanent and happy influence upon the nerves, the mind, and the entire system. In short of every headache, loss of memory, paralysis, dyspepsia, general prostration, irritability, nervousness, inability to sleep, liver complaint, and all diseases incident to females, hysteria, [illegible] pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, impotency, barrenness, constipation, etc., from whatever cause arising, it is of these is one remedy to be placed on record, absolutely infallible.

☞ If is the only infallible remedy yet discovered for Nervous Headache. Mild in its operation in the mental physic less equals for, and better adapted to a mind diseased. It will increase and restore the appetite, strengthen the constitution, relieve the minds of those who have destroyed it, infuse invigorating cheerfulness and cheerfulness of spirits, and prolong life.

Persons of pale complexion or disagreeable habits are restored by the use of a bottle or two. Pimples and pigs, changing the skin from a pale yellow sickly color to a healthful florid complexion.

The ultimate intention of those who have caused this extract is—I have heard your Cordial highly spoken of but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merit; having tried various medicines sold for the same purpose without benefit, and [illegible] almost given up all hopes of getting any relief, and when I purchased some of your Cordial I had no faith whatever of its benefiting me, but it has

THE FAIRMONT REPUBLICAN

Published every Thursday Morning at Fairmont, Virginia, by [illegible]

Terms.—The Republican is published to subscribers at Two Dollars per annum, payable in advance. No paper discontinued except at the option of the publishers, until all arrearages are paid.

JAMES HOWARD,

Dealer in Pies, Cakes, Apples, etc. Maryland Avenue, Capitol Hill.

J. A. F. TODTSCHINDER, Grocery and Liquor store, Maryland Avenue, Capitol Hill.

D. R. PETTIT'S

AMERICAN EYE SALVE,

SUPERIOR TO ANY KNOWN REMEDY

FOR DISEASED EYES,

For Inflammation of the delicate Organ, whether it be Chronic or Egyptian Ophthalmia—Humors of the Optic Nerve—Granulations of the Cornea—Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands and weakness of vision from any cause.

Dr. J. PETTIT, a member of the Medical Society of Onondago, Co. N. York, and for forty years a successful practitioner of Medicine and Surgery, by actual experiment and practice in a variety of diseases of the eye, discovered a scientific combination of ingredients, combining healing, cooling, and strengthening properties, that have required a lasting fame. Astonishing Cures, and have secured to the AMERICAN EYE SALVE a DESERVED RENOWN, unequalled in the history of any similar preparation.

The AMERICAN EYE SALVE is recommended with perfect confidence to all who have troubled with diseased eyes, whether caused by cancer or chronic inflammation, of scrofula, chronic weakness, or relaxation, or from whatever cause arising. Positive unison—diseased state of the eyes cured.

Irving Hotel, Washington D. C.

The subscriber respectfully announces to his friends and the travelling public that he has taken charge of this large and well known establishment which has been completely and elegantly refurnished in every department. Having had a long time of French hotel service, and the hotel at Old Point, and being experienced in all the details requisite to form a hotel of the first class, he assures the public that everything will be done to render the Irving worthy the liberal patronage of their confidence and support.

GEORGE WHITLOCK,

MUSICAL EMPORIUM,

Takes this method to inform the citizens of Washington and the surrounding country, that he has just received a large and general assortment of Musical Instruments and musical merchandize, consisting of first rate of the best tone and finish. Violins, Violoncellos, Flutes, Fifes, Violin Bows, Banjos, Tambourines, &c.